

Dear Valued Customer,

AVI Aviation, holding company for Aviation Inflatables Inc & AVI Survival Products is pleased to announce a new partnership with First Class Air Holdings.

German Alvarez, Founder and President of Aviation Inflatables and Survival Products, commented, "First Class Air Holdings is a great fit for our organization and will help us reach our full growth potential. This partnership will allow us to grow our geographic presence, make strategic investments in our organization, and enhance our capabilities for customers. Isac and I share the same vision for the future, and we are excited to partner together."

It is important for you to know that AVI will operate with the same commitment to the quality of work and customer service that you've come to rely on. We will continue to operate as the highest quality evacuation slide, raft, and life vest MRO facility globally. This opportunity will allow us to expand and strengthen the services and support while remaining committed to customers.

Isac Roths, CEO of First Class Air Holdings, commented, "Aviation Inflatables and Survival Products is known across the aviation industry as a premier provider of emergency equipment products and services. We are excited to have German and his team join First Class Air Holdings and are committed to providing best-in-class customer service."

We are also happy to announce that German and our management team will remain involved in daily operations and in working to uphold the uncompromising values of commitment to quality and dedication to excellence and customer service that AVI has been built on.

We look forward to continuing to support you in the future.

Best Regards,

German Alvarez
